

Presentation Schedule:

Your intro pitch for the presentation should simply give a brief overview of the final report: approximately a sentence or two for each larger point:

- What your general takeaway is from the class—influence on sound, writing, genre, narrative, teaching, etc.
- Title, Tag, Description + whether or not you might continue doing podcasts and why.
- Why the podcast you are presenting is the one you decided to share—is it the best technically, most/least sound-oriented, the best example of the genre, the one with the least amount of your voice, etc.

With a 3-5 minute podcast and this very brief intro, your presentation should run about 7-8 minutes. With 2 minutes or so to switch presenters, we should keep everything under 10 minutes.
